Subject : The 6th issue of The ASEAN Magazine
Date : 10 November 2020

Dear Colleagues,

The Department is pleased to share the 6th issue of The ASEAN, which provides an overview on Disaster Management, highlighting the vulnerability of our region to both sudden and slow-onset disasters.

The Issue provides an overview on Disaster Management, highlighting the vulnerability of our region to both sudden and slow-onset disasters. In his interview, Secretary General Dato Lim Jock Hoi shares his perspectives on how ASEAN has responded to transboundary disasters and the lessons learned in dealing with past disasters. In addition to articles on drought, safe schools and training of social workers for post-disaster work, the magazine also contains uplifting stories on human kindness in times of disasters, such as experiences of artists, who turned their creativity into providing warm meals for survivors of typhoons.

The ASEAN Intergovernmental Commission on Human Rights (AICHR)-Philippines and the Ateneo de Manila's Department of Political Science have contributed to this sixth edition of The ASEAN through the Thematic Study showcased in the article on Inclusion of Women and Girls as Both Targets and Agents of Humanitarian Response, which compiled and analyzed protection and empowerment policies and practices for women in all ten (10) ASEAN Member States in the context of disaster and emergency/crisis situations.

The issue may be downloaded through the ASEAN Secretariat website and the social media pages below.
