Poems written by Mr. Rolando Abad Jr., dedicated both to "the living and giving"

Let's Do Our Part

What defines us is not who we are
But what we do

It is not about what we achieved
But what we give

It is about how we respond
In times of need

Not to be distant and indifferent
But do good deed

It is not just about the posts you shared
But what you truly felt

And it's not enough to just talk about it
So please pray and kneel

It is about sharing what you have
That you don't need
To those people badly needing it
Who begged and pleaded
Let's not ignore the conscience call

Within our heart
We need to come as one
And do our part

The Art of Giving

Sometimes we get surprise
What difference we can do
We don't even realize where
A simple act of kindness can go

To someone who has nothing
Anything is everything
The things that we don't care about
Could mean the world to them
